

Authoring papers without acknowledgement or receiving acknowledgement without contributing. Are “ghosts” a growing species in medical publications? (p. 18)

Barcelonean primatologist Magdalena Bermejo studies western lowland gorillas in Central Africa and has witnessed more than 90% of them dying from Ebola. (p. 30)

Several French biotech clusters have sprung up outside domineering Paris. We visited the Alsace, where Polyplus-transfection sells gene delivery systems. (p. 42)

A picture is worth a thousand words – but only if drawn properly and used appropriately. Katharina Hien and Steffen Rümpler explain how to present scientific illustrations. (p. 54)
